

AlphaGrade™ Restoration System

SOMETIMES, THE EASIEST CHOICES ARE REALLY EASY

BEFORE

AFTER

LIKE RESTORING YOUR GRAVEL-SURFACED ROOF WITH THE ONE-OF-A-KIND ALPHAGRADE SYSTEM!

Tough as they are, gravel-surfaced built up-roofs (BUR) deteriorate with age. Until now, all you could do was replace the roof, which can be very expensive, labor-intensive, messy, and disruptive, or restore the roof using aging technologies that offer limited performance.

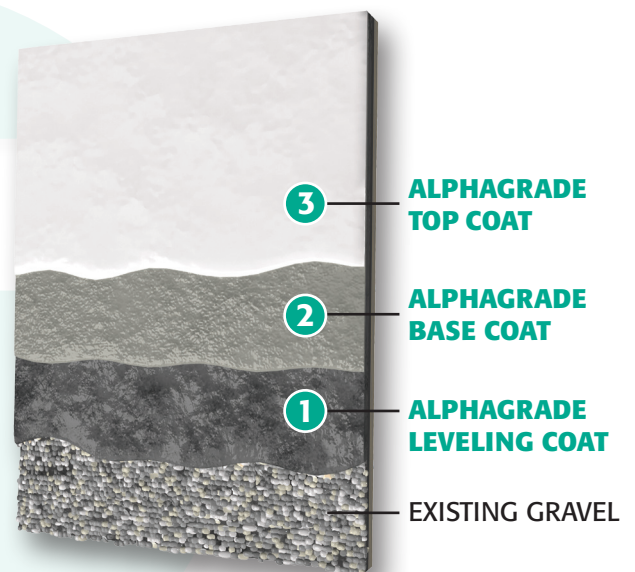

Why go through that? Tremco's AlphaGrade restoration system can restore these roofs with a new, waterproof covering that also helps the environment and reduces stress for building occupants.

Three Layers of Protection

After we determine that a BUR roof is suitable for restoration, loose gravel is vacuumed up and necessary repairs made. We then apply three layers of bio-based weatherproofing protection:

- AlphaGrade Leveling Coat to secure the gravel.
- AlphaGrade Base Coat.
- Highly reflective AlphaGrade Top Coat.

There is little disruption to those using the building, almost no smell and no risk of fire from hot kettles.

Restoration System Benefits that Make the Grade

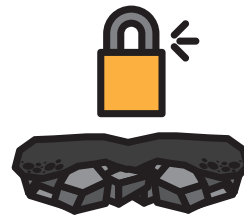

- Sealing gravel in place significantly reduces wind-borne debris and the damage it can cause.
- Low overall costs -- restoration costs a fraction of replacement; you could save hundreds of thousands of dollars.
- Sustainability – AlphaGrade includes significant percentages of bio-based and post-consumer recycled content, and keeps most roofing material from being hauled to overstressed landfills.
- The highly reflective, waterproof surface can help lower energy use and reduce the strain on HVAC equipment; the surface can be tinted to meet your aesthetic requirements.
- AlphaGrade's top coat can be restored repeatedly, virtually eliminating the need for roof replacement if it is properly maintained.

AlphaGrade Restoration is as Easy as 1-2-3
